Celebrating Home Helps People Shop on a Budget this Holiday Season

Company's 2009 Recommended Holiday Gift List offers items for $20 and under

MARSHALL, Texas (Grassroots Newswire) <Date> – Christmas is just around the corner. Snowmen, Santa Claus, reindeer, decorated trees and the North Pole; these are just some of the familiar symbols of the winter holiday season. And, one business is highlighting these characteristics – while helping shoppers stay on a budget – with the release of the Celebrating Home 2009 Recommended Holiday Gift List. The leading party-plan company's suggested gift items from its holiday catalog are all $20 and under.

According to a recent survey conducted by Pricegrabber.com, consumers are using more and more money-saving techniques due to the challenging economy. This year, to keep holiday spending in line, more consumers are looking to save even more than last year on their holiday shopping, the survey indicated.

"Whether it is a present for a relative, neighbor, or friend, we all want to choose a holiday gift that puts a smile on our loved one's face. But, with the status of the economy, we don't want it to break out wallets, either," said Heather Chastain, president of Celebrating Home, the nation's largest direct selling home décor company. "That is why we are so excited to introduce shoppers with some unique items designed to be affordable. With our recommendations of holiday-inspired, wallet-friendly gifts this year, we know that we can bring a smile, and perhaps a happy giggle, to many people."
